But the Government will have to make up its min at the beginning precisely how far it intends to go and should be careful to avoid any unnecessary cause of irritation. The prime cipal object in view is the prevention of overcrowding. The Public Health Olding ance provides that every domestic building or portion thereof found to be inhabited in excess of a proportion of one adult to ever three hundred cubic feet of clear internal space shall be considered to be in an over crowded condition and shall be deemed nuisance. Section 78 provides that no person shall keep a common lodging house unless the house is registered and the keeper licensed and power is given to the Sanitary Board to make by-laws for the sanitary maintenauce and the licensing and regulation of the bouses. Up to the pressnt the law has been allowed to remain a dead letter. By-laws were passed by the Sanitary Board in 1891. but, weakly yielding to the threat of strike, the Board postponed bringing them the Bethel flag will call slongside any vessel war, we ask the responsible authorities if it is into operation sine die.

The following anecdote the China Gazette says, is told by one who had it direct from Admiral Laug bimself. One night the gallant Admiral, whose absence from the Chinese navy our Celestini triends have now such grave reasons to deploye, returned to the Tingquen at a late hour to find no one on the deck of the great ship, which seemed atterly described. The sentry's loaded rifls and bayonst was lying idly against the bulwarks, the sentry himself was invisible. The Admiral, used to this characteristic lazity, proceeded to the state-room of Ad miral Ping the present commander of the Chinone naval forces, and there found that worlhy deep in the mysteries of a game of cards, his pariner being the sentry.
